jesters and fools have existed as important and consistent figures in nearly all cultures sometimes referred to as clowns they are typological characters who have conventional roles in the arts often using nonsense to subvert existing order but fools are also a part of social and religious history and they frequently play key roles in the rituals that support and shape a society's system of beliefs. This reference book includes alphabetically arranged entries for approximately 60 fools and jesters from a wide range of cultures. Included are entries for performers from American popular culture such as Woody Allen, Mae West, Charlie Chaplin and the Marx Brothers; literary characters such as Shakespeare's Falstaff, Rabelais' Gargantua and Pantagruel and singer's Gimpel; and cultural and mythological figures such as India's Birbal, the American circus clown, the Native American coyote, Taishu Engeki of Japan, Hephaestus, Loki, the Norse fool Schlimiels and Schlimazels, and the drag queen. The entries written by expert contributors are critical as well as informative; each begins with a biographical, artistic, religious, or historical background section which places the subject within a larger cultural and historical context. A description and analysis follow this section; may include a discussion of the fool's appearance, gender, role, ethical and moral roles, social function and relationship to such themes as nature, time and mortality. The entry then discusses the critical reception of the subject and concludes with an extensive bibliography of general works.

The traditional relationship between painting and literature underwent a profound change in nineteenth century France. Painting progressively asserted its independence from literature as it liberated itself from narrative obligations whilst interrogating the concept of subject matter itself. Simultaneously, the influence of art on the writing styles of authors increased and the character of the artist established itself as a recurring motif in French literature. This book offers a panoramic review of the relationship between art and literature in nineteenth century France by means of a series of case studies chosen from key moments throughout the nineteenth century. The aim of this study is to provide a focused analysis of specific examples of this relationship, revealing both its multifaceted nature as well as offering a panorama of the development of this on-going and increasingly complex cultural relationship. From Jacques Louis David's irreverence for classical texts to Victor Hugo's graphic works, from Edouard Manet's illustrations to Vincent van Gogh's paintings of books, from Honoré de Balzac's unknown masterpiece to Joris Karl Huysmans's A Rebours, this interdisciplinary investigation of the links between literature and art in France throws new light on both fields of creative endeavour during a critical phase of France's cultural history.
